

A period (.) ends a sentence that is telling information.

An exclamation mark (!) ends a sentence when it shows excitement or emotion.

A question mark (?) ends a sentence that asks a question.

Read each sentence. Find the mark at the end of the sentence. Cut out and set each sentence in the column that matches the punctuation at the end of the sentence.

| . 😊 | ! 😄 | ? 🤔 |
|-----|-----|-----|
|     |     |     |

|                                  |                           |                           |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------|---------------------------|
| I cannot wait to see my grandma! | She lives in a red house. | What should we get her?   |
| How long is the car ride?        | It will be her birthday!  | We will give her flowers. |